

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A digital camera capable of readily recognizing the printing-specifying information that has been set.

5 Printing-specifying information is set for digital image data acquired by photographing. When an image for which printing-specifying information has been set is displayed on a monitor provided in the digital camera, the image is displayed along with the set printing-specifying information.

10